Old Glory" Raised Over a Santing Fort-The City Easy Prey for the Blue Jackets-Preparations for a Land Attack.

CAPE HAYTEIN (Hayti,) June :10 p.m.-[By West Indian Cable.] It is reported here that a great battle has taken place at Calmanera in the Bay of Guantanamo. At 5:30 o'clock yesterday morning (Tuesday) Sve ships of the American squadron opened a heavy bombardment on the fortificahail of bombs in the bay, striking and lemolishing many houses beyond the fortifications

On the Spanish side the artillery replied vigorously, maintaining for some time a stout resistance. The fire from the warships, however, never slackened for an instant. It was regular and carefully directed, and a great majority of the shots proved effective. The Spaniards were forced to abandon their position on the shore and retrea to the town of Calmanera proper. It is supposed that later they fied from this position also with the inhabitants.

Information reached here that the Spanish at Santiago and Caimaners are preparing for a final desperate struggle, and are determined to resist the assault of the Americans to the last extremity. The commander of the district issued an order yesterday to burn Calmanera before yielding it into the hands of the Americans.

The latter forced the entrance to the bay of Guantanamo and, according to the latest advices from Caimanera, was feared that the Americans would this (Wednesday) afternoon, Measurer to prevent this, if possible, have been taken by the Spaniards. The American fleet was still maintaining its position

Cable communication with Cubs which has been interrupted for many hours, was partially restored this aft ernoon, but it is still difficult and pre carlous. The report of the bombardcombardment destroyed a little house of the French cable at Caimaners though whether by the explosion of the combs from the water or by the explosives used by a party sent for that ing the main cable with the office at imanera and the town of Calmaners with Santiago were cut, thus account ing for the prolonged absence of in telligence here as to operations in tha vicinity.

It is also believed that the cable Santiago is cut, as no direct news from Santiago has yet been received at Cape Haytein since Monday at mid 9:45 p.m.-Even before the cables a Guantanamo had been injured so that they could not be worked, the operators at the Calmanera station wer forced to flee from the fire of the ships. Up to this hour (9:45' p.m.) there has been no direct cable communica tion from Santiago since Monday at midnight.

LAND ATTACK ON SANTIAGO, [BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CAPE HAYTIEN, June 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] News from Santiago indicates that preparations are being made, if not already completed, for a land attack on Santiago. Americans and insurgents succeeded in combining their forces, and news is expected at any moment that an attack on the city has begun.

The forts of Aguadores and small masked batteries near the entrance to the harbor of Santiago, as well as some batteries within the harbor, have again been shelled by the American fleet without, the Spaniards say, doing any damage. The Spanish account is that the bombardment is being done to protect further landing of troops. In Santiago the troops of Gens. Pando and Linares are preparing for a terrible battle. The Spaniards claim masked batteries near the entrance to they have 24,000 seasoned troops in and about the city. The fall of Santiago seems imminent, and the capture of Cervera's fleet is certain, unless he scuttles his ships.

This is a project very much at heart just at present, for, though fully recognizing the good military qualities displayed by the insurgents, according to the newspaper reports, in their combats around Cavite, the officials are loath to rely entirely upon them for any length of time, fearing a relapse on their part into savagery that might startle the civilized world.

The Japanese are the latest to turn up with applications for permission to study the technical features of the present war, and today Secretary Alger granted special permission to Commander Ketsura Narila of the Japanes imperial navy, and Lieut. Saneyuki Akiyama'to go with the army of occu-pation to Cuba.

A delegation from the Young Men' Business Club of Cincinnati brought to the White House today a very beauti fully illuminated copy of "The Address to the American Flag," written by Drake. This was intended for presentation to Rear-Admiral George Dewey as a token of admiration of the magnifcent ability and great bravery displayed by him in the planning and execution of the battle of Manila, the culmination of the great victory which tartled the world, proving that American officers of the army and navy are unexcelled. But the mystery of the affair is tha the French cable began working again on Saturday. How this came about is beyond explanation by the best ca ble experts. The French cable company is as much in the dark on this poin as are the authorities here. All that the company knows is that it could not do business from the 3d to the 4th No bulletins were posted today at inst. NEWS VIA SINGAPORE.

LONDON, June 9 .- [By Atlantic Cale.] The Singapore correspondent of Times, telegraphing today, says that the local Philippine insurgent ommittee received today the following lispatch from Aguinaldo:

"We have taken all the province of Cavite and several towns in the province of Batangas. We have captured 10 guns, 600 rifles, 1200 Spaniards from Spain, with 800 Philippine Spaniards, killing 300. We are besieging Blejo. Inthe church there are 300 Spaniards entrenched, who must surrender soon, We hear that the Governor-General proposes to capitulate."

The Filipiños in Singapore serenaded the United States Consul-General, E. S. Pratt, tonight. Before the serenade they presented him with an address thanking him for sending Aguinaldo to Admiral Dewey, congratulating Dewey, and expressing a desire for the establishment of a native government under American protection. The spokesman, continuing, deprecated a restoration of the islands to Spain or their transfer to any power, and expressed his confidence that the natives would prove their ability to govern themselves. WASHINGTON, June 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Six ships chartered, three ordered inspected preparatory to mass. ing them, and urgent orders to put big forces of men to work getting ships in shape, was the result of the day's work in the War Department as regards the Philippine expedition today, while the government has paid $15,000 and a United States register for its experience with the Centennial, it will not risk delaying the expedition longer by waiting till ships are needed before they are chartered. Should the war continue, the Tacoma, due July 31, and Columbia, due August 17, from the same line, at $650 per day each, will be chartered.

Counting the Pacific Coast ships as taken, the nine vessels named will carry about 10,000 men, which, with the China, Colon, Zealandia, about to sail. and the Ohio, which is en route to San Francisco from the Sound, carry ing 4000 more, will almost provide for Gen. Merritt's expedition.

The report to Secretary Alger yester day announced that the troops at San Francisco were very far advanced to ward readiness for service, and that his entire command would be ready to sail before ships could be prepared if work on the vessels was not prose cuted more vigorously. Irving M. Scott Explains Her Excel-

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.] NEW YORK, June 8.—Irving M. Scott, the builder of the battleship Oregon, sailed for Europe on the North German Lloyd liner Kaiser Wilhelm it is said, to seek contracts for war ships from the Russian government The builder of the Oregon arrived this city on May 30, after spending se eral days in Washington. There was overwhelmed with praise for the Oregon's achievement. President Mcgratulated him.

The Oregon represents the best type battleship this country has yet ilt," said Mr. Scott. "When it was designed the object was to have something to fight with, after the big guns in forward and after turrets had been destroyed. Hence, eight guns in tur-rets forward and after were introduced.

"The Royal Sovereign class, which England built prior to the construction of the Oregon, had two 12-inch guns of the Oregon, had two 12-inch guns in barbettes forward and aft, and ten 6-inch rapid-firers, five on each side. Only four of these broadside guns were protected, and if it lost its big guns, it would only have the 6-inch ones to protect itself with.

"It would seem that the proper thing to do in the future would be to develop in a still more advanced stage the original of the Oregon, lengthen the hull, increase the power, so that the ship would have greater speed and coal-carrying capacity, and, if possithe ship would have greater speed and coal-carrying capacity, and, if possible, supplant the present slow 6-inch battery with a battery of rapid-firers. "The run of the Oregon was no more than those who knew the vessel felt sure it would make. It is not the first ship that we have built that has proved its ability to make a trip of such a distance, and he in first-class condition upon its arrival. At the time of the naval review at Hampton Roads, the San Francisco covered a similar run, and needed no repairs when it was over, as the engineer's report on file at Washington will show.

"Capt. Clark's efficient seamanship is entitled to the highest praise, and every one who knows him believes that if any opportunity offers, he and his ship will be as famous as Dewey and the Olympia, or Nelson and the Victory."

Tribune.

The plan of mounting these guns was carried out by Gen. Wilson, chief of engineers, who managed before the war began to get together a number of converted old rifles and smoothbores, and placed them in position for the defenses of such ports as Port Royal, Miami, Jupiter Inlet and St. Augustine, and several of the smaller towns along the gulf coast. These guns gave a fair defense, the general says, and would have kept at a distance any light-draught ships entering the ports where they were mounted. Senator Tillman was one of the most persistent advocates of sending guns to these little coast towns, and succeeded in getting the mouth of Cape Fear River well protected. Other southern Senators presented strong arguments, and used such persuasion for defending ports in their States that soon all the slege guns available were mounted on improvised emplacements. All this was accomplished at considerable outlay of money. Lately orders came to ship every field gun to Tampa and other ports where troops are to embark for Cuba, and the work of removing the pieces was begun. Senators are now protesting against their removal, but they have been assured that with Cervera in Santlago and the Cadiz fleet too decrepit to cross the ocean, the most exposed port need have no fear from Spanish bombardment.

The troops to take Santiago will only remain there long enough to assist the insurgents to take the city and established. lish a military government, and the spatch boat Premier.

"We had a good view of Monday" combardment. On Sunday Admira Sampson, in conference with Commo Schley and the fleet captains, de-sampson, in contentee with contained ore Schley and the fleet captains, decided upon bombardment because of the Spanish activity on the new batteries. Monday morning was misty with frequent showers.

"When the fleet opened fire, the Spanish batteries answered promptly, though at first feebly. Then the heavy batteries, armed with Krupp and Armstrong guns poured out a storm of flame. The guns of these forts were brought to Santiago by the Montserrat on her last voyage from Cadiz, and are believed to have been manned by German and French experts. The Spaniards had boasted that no fleet could live before them, but their aim proved poor, and the warships suffered comparatively little damage.

"The Yankee (formerly El Norte.)

During the bombardment a battery of field pieces at the Cuban headquarters on a mountain top to the north of Santiago opened fire with a ten-mile

"The Dolphin shelled a small fort near the beach, where Spanish troops were seen, but no reply was made from the shore, and were slienced. The Marblehead and the New Orleans, were sent respec-tively west and east to attack any iso-lated fortifications. They worked in-shore, keeping their guns going rap-idly. During the bombardment a shell exploded on the port quarter of the Vizcaya. It dismounted one of her guns, damaged the rudder and injured

Vizcaya. It dismounted one of her guns, damaged the rudder and injured several seamen.

"The destroyer Furor, which was cruising about Cayo Smith, in the harbor, made several rushes out from her post. In one of these a shell exploded over her bow, tore open the forward deck, damaged her turtle back, and compelled her to take refuge further up in the harbor.

"Very little damage was done to the American ships. It is reported that the Suwanee was struck by a shell, which burst and wounded a seaman in the leg slightly. Some of the vessels suffered somewhat from the recoil of the heavy guns. The shells did such execution that Moro Castle has the appearance of a picturesque ruin. From the Premier we could see the shells striking the hill, tearing trees down and scattering the rocks and earth in all directions. Indeed, the sky line near Moro from our view point is quite changed, and now shows great gaps. Vegetation is exterminated, and all the shells fell. The Spanish guns on the sea front, with the exception of the smooth bores in Moro Fort, were silenced, and many were ruined."

IBY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.1 NEW YORK, June 9 .- [Exclusive ispatch.] A special from Cape Hay-

The obfect of the invaders is to gain the heights of the Maestra bills, particuarly the Larma San Pablo, which commands Santiago City. They have iready gained many points of vantage and the American artillery is shelling the enemy. Santiago may surrender before th American military forces reach there. The resistance of the Spanish troops on the outposts to the advance of the Cubans and Americans has been halfhearted. The invaders could have ap proached closer to the city, but they eared a trap. They are now on the hills on both sides of the har or, and are fortifying their positions

The Spanlards are expected to re main near the city, and make their resistance there. They were bewildered by the Americans landing soldiers at nore than one point, and an attempt they made to drive them back to the transports failed, by reason of the presence of the American fleet.

As no report has been sent out as to the American losses, it is probable this first victory was a bloodless on top is a point considered important as it practically controls the bay of Aguadores.

The Americans at once landed the artillery and dragged it up the slope It was a matter of wonder that the Spanish general, Linares, did no make a strong attempt to stop the Americans at this point. SAMPSON WANTS TROOPS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
NEW YORK, June 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] There was one important omission from Sampson's dispatch, says the Sun, made public by the Navy Department last night telling of Mon-day's successful bombardment of San-tiago forts. The admiral expressed his sentiment on the navy, and showed his anxiety on the navy, and showed his maxiety on the subject when he told the department to send troops to Santiago inmediately. Why the department suppressed this important part of Santson's measure is one of the maxiety pson's message is one of the mys-terbs which no man can solve.

The report of the admiral shows how anx bus he is to make quick work of the lantlago campaign. Nothing can be doe at Porto Rico without the asof the navy, and it is intended that Sampson's fleet shall main intact at Santiago until troops and ships have surrendered. Then the movement to San Juan we begin.

MANY VOLUNTEERS REJECTED [ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—Nearly 75 per cent of the applicants for en-listment in the United States regular army are rejected at the recruiting of-fices in this city. OUR NATIONAL GUARD.

Will not Be Rehabilitated-Volumteers Hold Their Places.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8 .- [Exclu san Francisco, and stream sive Dispatch.] The National Guard of California is not to be rehabilitated. Members who volunteered for service in the army of the United States in the present war are to be members of the guard during their absence, and when they return, they are to have the same rank and station as before enlistment This is to be effected by granting all volunteers who were recruited from the guard leave of absence to go to the war. No new men are to take places of those who volunteered, and the State is to wait with its skeleton regiments for the return of patriots.

So much was finally decided today by Gov. Budd. It is a radical depar ture from the anticipated action, and already it has caused friction that will not end in burning words alone. It is desperately opposed by Maj.-Gen. Dickinson, and is as firmly upheld by the Governor and Adjt.-Gen. Barrett. Atty.-Gen. Fitzgerald has rendered an pinion on the subject, at the request of the Governor. J. J. Dwyer, judge-advocate on Gen. Dickinson's staff, has also prepared a brief. They are widely at variance. Atty.-Gen. Fitzgerald's lengthy paper sets forth the legality of granting leave of absence to mem-bers of the National Guard, and bers of the National Guard, and Dwyer's undertakes to prove conclusively to his satisfaction that there is of California.

For several days trouble has been orewing at headquarters in the Call-fornia Hotel, where Gov. Budd and Adjt.-Gen. Barrett hold forth. Maj.-Gen. Dickinson, in exercise of his pre ogatives as field head of the troops, made a demand for the roster of volunteers, for an accounting of all men and property turned over to the United States government and for va-rious other things, all of which were refused. He feels aggrieved, and does not hesitate to say so.

There have been one or two instances where let ers have been reported lost, but there has been any complaint that ties know nothing of it. The mail for the soldiers does not leave the postal cars until it is put in the regimental mail pouches, and there is no more danger in the transmission of mail to this point than to any other.

Postoffice Department has or ered the erection of a building at this point for the use of the money-order department, which has been steadily growing. An idea may be had of the ousiness at this office, when it is known that the sale of postage stamps today was 30,000 2-cent stamps. The supply on hand gave out, and many soldlers who had emergency letters bought 4cent stamps, rather than wait for a

A genuine sensation was created at the camp of the First Missouri today when Lieut. Houck, recently appointed adjutant of a battalion in the First Missouri'by Gov. Stephens, reported to Col. Cavender declines for the present to make public his reasons for refusing to acknowledge the Governor's authority, and just what course the matter will take is not known.

There is still complaint of the delay in receiving arms for the army. The guns of the Fifth Pennsylvania Regiment were inspected today, and out of the entire number in the possession of the regiment only eight were passed, the others being condemned as unfit for use.

A statement made by Mr. Curzon, in the House of Commons, Tuesday, to the effect that negotiations were progressing for a settlement of all open questions between the United States and Great Britain, has very naturally attracted a great deal of attention, and has been the cause of some very vigorous cabling between representatives of the European powers stationed at Washington and their home governments. The Associated Press has official authority to say that if Mr. Curzon's statement is accepted as correctly published, it will lead to a misapprehension of the facts. He probably added the words, "in respect to the Dominion of Canada," as only Canadian questions were considered.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—The House today disposed of the Senate amendment to the Sundry Civil Bill, and agreed to further conference. The conference report upon the Postoffice Appropriation Bill was adopted without debate, and the House proceeded to consider the bill to provide for participation of volunteer soldiers in Congressional elections. Adjournment was taken pending disposal, and it will come up tomorrow.

The session began and ended today with Hawaiian incidents, Mr. Grosvenor (Rep.,) of Ohio, a leader of the annexationists, figuring in each instance. There is great anxiety on the part of those who want early consideration lest the opposition win a victory, and effect undue delay, if not the defeat of the resolution at this session.

GEN. GROSVENOR'S ORIECT WASHINGTON, June 8.-Gen. Grosvenor's object today in introducing the resolution to consider Hawaiiar the resolution to consider Hawalian annexation is to place the question of getting up the annexation resolution formally before the Committee on Rules, looking to a special rule for its immediate consideration in the House. He stated this afternoon that he expected the annexation resolution would be brought up in the House tomorrow. "It is the intention of the friends of the measure." he said, "to bring the annexation resolution up immediately and press it to a final passage." He said the resolution would be brought up tomorrow by a special rule or by recognition of his resolution. This at least disposes of one of the contentions of the opponents of annexation, that no formal request for action has been made to the Committee on Rules, though verbal requests have been showered on the Speaker and the Republican members of that committee. The conference reports have precedence over the resolution and if the War Revenue Bill (street committee. The conference report have precedence over the resolution and if the War Revenue Bill is ported, as now seems possible, it will stand in the way of immediate con-sideration, as would any other reports about to come from conference.

Mr. Platt of Connecticut relarded the measure as very sweeping in its provisions, and while he desired, he said, to extend all proper privileges to American soldiers and sailors, he could not let this bill go through without examination. On his objection the measure went over.

Mr. Quay of Pennsylvania resigned from the Committee on Commissional from the Committee on Commerce, and his colleague. Mr. Penrose, was appointed to fill the vacancy. HOUSE.—Today's session of the House began with a slight burst over the annexation of Hamaii. The regular order pursuant to unanimous of granted yesterday was the con

Mr. Grosvenor (Rep.) of Ohio gained recognition and asked unanimous con-sent to read and have referred to the sent to read and have referred to the Committee on Rules a resolution pro-viding for giving the Hawaiian reso-lution precedence over all other busi-ness except conference reports until disposed of.

ness except conference reports until disposed of.

"I will say to the gentleman," quickly interjected Mr. Henderson (Rep.) of fowa, a member of the Rules Committee, "that it is entirely unnecessary to read or present to the House his resolution. He has only to deposit it with the clerk and it will be referred appropriately."

"I understand," responded Mr. Grosvenor, "but I want it made plain that the resolution has been introduced and sept to the committee."

"I object," cried Mr. Johnson (Rep.) of Indiana.

"I object," cried Mr. Johnson (Rep.) of Indiana.
Mr. Smith (Rep.) of Michigan renewed his demand for the regular order and the resolution was forced through the regular channel.
Consideration of the Senate amendments to the Sundry Civil Bill then proceeded, and the following were agreed to: Improving the harbor of Wilmington and Christiana River, Delaware; continuing the improvement of aware; continuing the improvement of the harbor at Oakland, Cal.; appro-priating $250,000 for the protection of the Sacramento and Feather rivers, California.

ANOTHER HAWAIIAN INCIDENT. JASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] WASHINGTON, June 8.—The close of the session, like the opening, was narked by a Hawalian incident in marked by a Hawaiian incident in which Mr. Grosvenor likewise figured. Mr. Smith moved to adjourn pending the disposal of the bill, and Mr. Grosvenor was instantly upon his feet, protesting that he had a parliamentary inquiry. It was to find the effect of adjournment that Mr. Grosvenor rose. A wrangle ensued pending the vote to adjourn, during which Mr. Grosvenor, in response to some near-by member who had suggested that adjournment would be equivalent to continuing the order making the election bill privileged tomorrow, said angrily: "Yes, I know it is a continuing order, and it is a continuing order to obstruct the passage of the Hawaiian resolutions." The vote proceeded, resulting in favor of adjournment, but a roll call was ordered, resulting, yeas, 91; nays, 80, and the House adjourned.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
WASHINGTON, June 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Annexation Senators say that should Congress send the customary committee to the President to inform him they had finished their work and were ready to adjourn, the President would announce to this com-mittee that Hawaiian annexation was of such importance at this time that he would feel justified in calling an extra session. This intimation, it is believed, would bring a speedy action.

WAR REVENUE ASSURED.

onferees Agree to Adopt the Senate's Amendments. (ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

WASHINGTON, June 8.-Unless most carefully-arranged plans fail of real-ization, the conferees of the two houses of Congress on the War Revenue Bill will make their report to the Senate tomorrow, soon after the beginning of the day's session. When today's meet-ing came to a close, practically all the differences between the houses had beer adjusted, except those on the tobacco schedule and the coinage of the silver seigniorage, though there were some points still to be settled with reference points still to be settled with reference to the proposed issue of bonds and certificates of indebtedness.

The settlement so obtained is a substantial victory for the Senate. Practically all of the Senate amendments in phraseology and penalties, have been retained, as have also a large majority of the Senate's more material changes. Among the most important of these which the report will show have been agreed to by the conferees are those providing for a tax on inheritances, for a duty on tea and taxes on sleeping and palace cars, petroleum and sugar refining, on mixed flour and on bankers and brokers, theaters, circuses, etc.

amount was $100,000,000 in both the seate and House bills, and will remain at that figure. The changes will be of a character making the proposed loan immediately available, by doing away with the requirements for advertising. It will also be made clear that this loan is intended for merely temporary pur-is intended for merely temporary purposes.

Among the Senate amendments which will probably go out, are those providing for a tax on receipts of $5, and a tax on insurance agents, as well as the Chilton amendment, extending the provisions of the proprietary medicine schedule to all manufactured articles. There will also be a general reduction from the Senate's schedule of taxes upon proprietary medicines.

The conferees have agreed to substitute the Tawney Pure-Flour Bill for the Mason amendment to the Revenue Bill. The Ways and Means Committee of the House today unanimously agreed on the Tawney bill. It defines mixed flour, imposes a special tax of $12 per annum on those engaged in the manufacture and sale of mixed flour; defines the size of packages in which sold, and imposes a tax of 4 cents on the manufacture and sale of each barrel of flour, using stamps; regulates the exportation of flour; requires it to be branded with names of its ingredients, and imposes severe penalties for any violation.

HAWAIIAN ANNEXATION.

Act of the Executive.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO,THE TIMES.] WASHINGTON, June 8 .- [Exclusive Dispatch.] Hawaiian annexation may yet have to be accomplished as an act of the Executive. President McKinley has been brought face to face with the danger of an early adjournment of Congress without the passage of the Newlands resolution, and is now considering which plan he will follow Congress may be held in session and the resolution pushed through if the Executive sends a message emphasizing the absolute necessity for action

Should the President see other diffi-culties in the way of continuing the session, it can be stated positively that he is prepared to have a flag raised over the islands, and will send a force over the islands, and will send a of men and ships to make a sho authority of the United States he takes possession. The fact that the Senate may adjourn as soon as the War Revenue and appropriation bills are out of the way, has been main-fained and combated for the past two weeks steadily, but not until today did the friends of Hawaii begin to doubt their ability to maintain a quorum of annexationists. Then it was that Senator Lodge told the President of the danger, and the result is expected to be that, as soon as the War-Revenue Bill is passed, there will be a communication from the White House, which will spur on the Republicans to definite action at once. The feeling in the House was shown this evening when, in the face of a mo tion to adjourn leaving the Lacy bill the continuing order, Gen. Grosvenor declared with vigor that there was a conspiracy to defeat Hawaii. Their forces railled, and, despite the heat and lateness of the hour, the House was adjourned only by a vote of 91 to 80, when most Republicans were absent. Nine Democrats voted with the an nexationists, but it is now declared that twenty-six will be for Hawaii on the passage of the resolution. Many Republicans, friends of the resolution, hour, so that the resolution is not a fair test.

Both Barham and Hilborn from California stood squarely for the annexa-tion side, though it meant opposition to Reed, in that the Speaker steadily opposes annexation. Grosvenor said night that he was satisfied with getand country today, as he did when he presented his rule, and again at the adjournment, and he declares he will keep on fighting, expecting to secure consideration before the end of the

It was developed today that the ad-Monadnock should make a journey to Hawaii and lie there until the islands have been taken formally, and perhaps for a short time thereafter, while troops there, and mount any guns deemed necessary to hold the harbor.

Richard Brown, a young man about 20 years of age, is dying from consump tion on a cot in the Receiving Hospital. Doctors think that before this day wanes he may be dead. His lungs are eaten away, his heart pains him, he is eaten away, his heart pains him, he is too weak to move about easily, and there is naught left of him but skin and bones. He was picked up by Officer Spencer at First and Spring streets, where he had fallen to the pavement from exhaustion. He came from San Bernardino last Saturday, where it is said he had been living previously. He was lodging here, somewhere on First street, but he could not recall the number.

was lodging here, somewhere on First street, but he could not recall the number.

Speech came to him with difficulty, and in whispers. He was asked if he had friends or relatives here, and he replied that he had a mother. He was asked for her address and told he would be sent there, "No, no," he answered, "I don't want to go there while she is living with my stepfather—I'd rather die anzwhere." Under promise that she would not be notified of his present condition, he gave her address as Mrs. Cary, living in the rear of No. 225 South Hill street.

Dr. Hagan was called, and, after an examination of the patient, saw he was in the last stages of consumption and could not live long. He gave him a narcotic. The doctor suggested that the boy's mother be sent for, and Officer Sparks went after her. That was about 1;30 o'clock this morning. She came to the Police Station shortly thereafter, with her husband. Mrs. Cary went into the ward to see her son, while Mr. Cary remained near the clerk's desk. In reply to a question he said he did not know the dying boy, and, being pressed, replied that he knew him only as he knew any one, and that he was but a stranger to him. and, being pressed, replied that he knew him only as he knew any one, and that he was but a stranger to him. The cure of consumption is a branch of medicine not often attempted by the regular practitioner, for the simple reason they are unable to accomplish a cure. Dr. lar practitioner, for the simple reason they are unable to accomplish a cure. Dr. Ballard of this city is the originator of the remedy and method of treatment now used by himself. He is the only manufacturer of this remedy, and there is no one else who can give the same thing. The claim sometimes made by other physicians that they can give hypodermic injections, and can give the same remedy, is misleading. There are other remedies used hypodermically which are either harmful or worthless, but no physician in Los Angeles can give ally which are either harmful or worthless, but no physician in Los Angeles can give the "same thing," nor "something just as good," for no one else produces the same remedy nor can produce it. All claims to the contrary notwithstanding, it is best for any one desiring to get cured of tuberculosis to go to the originator for correct, scientific reliable examination and treatment. Dr. Ballard has met with remarkable success since he introduced his remedy for the cure of consumption, and has cured many cases of consumption, and has cured many case which could not be cured in any other which could not be cured in any other way, and which had been given up by other physicians; and, in spite of any statements to the contrary, he challenges any person, or any physician to dispute his claims.

Dr. Ballard has published a report of many cases treated by him, giving a correct and the contract of the contract of the contract and the contract of the cases and the Monday.

A sensational will contest comes to trial in the courts with the regularity of seasons, and the Silvany will that is now being examined into in Department Two is not lacking in interest. Father Adam, the vicar-general of the diocese, is one of the contestants, as the deceased made a will in 1891 in which practically everything he had was left to the Catholic Church. Under the will that was admitted to probate, however, Francisco Quijada gets the entire estate, save for a small bequest to his son, who was godehild of the testator.

In the case of Dan McMahon the defense were getting on swimmingly in proving an alibi for the defendant, but upon rebuttal testimony being put in, the alibi was badly punctured, and one last chance will be afforded the defense this morning to mend the break by surrebuttal testimony—if they can.

A. M. Kruger, who was arrested by Con Mallory, the detective attached to the District Attorney's office, for forging his sister's name to a check, turns out to be a more pronounced criminal than was anticipated. Another check, it appears, was presented to which his sister's name had also been forged, and now the officers are on a still hunt for more of the same kind.

as provided in the new rules regulat-ing promotions, is acknowledged to be a step in advance from the old system the unreasonable extreme favored by one member of the Board of Fire Com-missioners who has made a hobby of the subject, the beneficial effects will, in the opinion of those conversant with fire department affairs, be wholly lost, The subject, and that of the pur-chase of horses for the department caused a lively session of the commislost, The subject, and that of the purchase of horses for the department caused a lively session of the commission yesterday morning, in which the discussion waxed warm, and was accompanied by some display of feeling. Commissioner Wells is the father of the civil-service plan in the department, and while he has made a study of it, his ideas that the system should be so widely extended that all possible prospective firemen shall be included, does not meet with the support of the other members of the commission. In his weekly report to the commission yesterday, Chief Moore recommended that a number of callmen, hosemen and laddermen be given a civil service examination. This was agreeable to the members of the commission, but Commissioner Wells demanded that the examination not only include those who had served as sub-callmen, but any others who might be desirous of such positions. In other words, he wanted it understood that no person should become connected with the department in any way who had not passed an examination. The other commissioners did not agree with this, for they argued that there were many men who could passe a mental examination better perhaps than any members of the present department, but who would make very poor firemen. Chief Moore explained that the present plan was to take a man on probation, and if it was found that he would make a good fireman, after a period of probation he was given an examination which, if he passed, was followed by his appointment to one of, the lower branches of the service, from which promotion would depend upon himself. Mr. Wells intimated that it was time to stop appointments were now made, except passibly among the sub-callmen whose positions are by no means remunerative. Nothing came of the matter, however, and it was finally decided to hold the examinations as the Chief had suggested.

sition for $250 for the purchase of two horses was considered. As soon as the claim was read Mr. Wells asserted that that was a high price to pay for two horses when horseflesh was so cheap. Now, Commissioner Kuhrts has, with the assistance of Assistant Chief Smith, looked after the purchae of all horses in the fire department for years, and until now there has been no objection to his work in that direction. He did not like the criticism, and at once explained that cheap horseflesh was not what the department wanted: that a good horse fit for fire service was worth what the department paid for it. Mr. Wells objected to this method of buying horses, and insisted that the Chief advertise for bids for the purchase of two additional horses. It was explained to him that more horses were needed, and instances were cited in which horses had been recently crippled. The fact that two horses in the department are now unfit for service, but, as there are no reserve horses, could not be removed from the service, was stated, and the possibility of crippling others was pointed out. Mr. Wells did not see any danger in this, for he advised that in case of emergency the Chief should hire a horse or two. He still insisted upon advertising for two horses, and this led Commissioner Kuhrts to make a motion which will, it is thought, cause Broadway to be packed with horses for sale next week. He moved that the advertisements state that owners of horses must present them before the City Hall next Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock for inspection. This motion carried, and before the day was over a dozen or more horse-dealers had telephoned the Chief stating that they would be on hand with almost any kind of a horse that he wanted.

The bill for whips for use in the department was also objected to by the same commissioner. The bill was for 75 cents per whip. It was allowed in spite of the objections.

A communication was presented from the Bowers Rubber Company, offering to replace any sections of their brand of hose which had burst at th ful.

During the past week there have been fourteen fires and a number of false alarms, the highest number on any one day being five. The Chief reported that the vacation lists has been made out, and that the firemen would take their vacations without extra expense to the city.

MAIN-STREET COLLECTIONS. Some Objections to the Cost of Re-

Some difficulty will be experienced by the Alcatras Asphalt Paving Company in the collection of all of the as-sessments against property-owners on account of the resurfacing of Main street, and part of the difficulty is coming from a few of those who signed the petition to have the work done. In all such street improvements there

In all such street improvements there are property-owners who object to their assessment on the grounds that they had supposed that it would not be as great as it is found to be after the work has been completed.

Main street has been accepted by the Street Superintendent, and within thirty days from that acceptance, the City Council will accept the work. The property-owners must then pay their assessments, and a number of them have already paid. Some of them claim to have understood that the cost would not exceed $1 per lineal foot, but no such a statement was made by any person in authority at the time the petition was circulated. The work is considered cheaper than any similar job that has ever been done in this city, and the cost is far below what the property-owners south of Ninth street had to pay when that portion the property-owners south of Ninth street had to pay when that portion of the street was resurfaced.

To Establish Grades

The City Council has been petitioned by a number of property-owners to es-tablish the grades of the following streets: Budlong from Adams to Jef-ferson; Twenty-seventh from Rosedale to Budlong and Twenty-ninth between the same streets as Twenty-seventh.

Proposed Changes to Be Carefully Looked into.

The members of the Board of Pub-Works accompanied by a number of members of the general boulevard committee will inspect the route of the roposed boulevard between this city and Pasadena this morning. The party will leave the City Hall at 9 o'clock, and will drive along the route, or the streets nearest it, and by means of maps deternine just what property will have to has been suggested so as to avoid cut ting into the proposed site of the South ting into the proposed site of the Southern Pacific coal dump will be carefully considered, and it is probable that the change will be ordered. The question has been raised as to whether each change that is to be made will not necessitate a beginning of the proceedings over again. It is understood that an effort is being made to secure signatures to a protest against this route, and that it is being numerously signed by those in the district of assessment.

Some of the leading bond brokers in the country ap-pear to have been kept informed as to the issue, for some of the letters express a great familiarity with the mat ter. A number of offers to bid on the bonds have been received, and the in terest taken indicates that the bonds will certainly be sold at a premium.

Opposing New Specials.

Some oppositon has developed in the City Council to the request of the Board of Police Commissioners that intimated that it was time to stop appointing firemen on account of political pulls, and showed some feeling at the opposition to his civil-service plan. Mayor Snyder stated that no such appointments were now made, except possibly among the sub-calimen whose positions are by no means remunerative. Nothing came of the matter, however, and it was finally decided to hold the examinations as the Chief had suggested.

rand and Undue Influence Charges Against L. C. Flores and Quijada - In Both Wills Estate is Left Practically in

A sensational case came to trial yesterday in Department Two, before Judge Ballard of Orange county, sitting for Judge Clark, in the contest of the will of Stephen Silvany, deceased, who died on January 10 of the

The will has already been admitted to probate, and under its terms Silvany left a house and lot at No. 213
Railroad avenue to his god-child, Jesus Quijada, and, as was set forth, Quijada, and, as was set forth. "to my best friend, Francisco Quijada, who has been my main support, comfort and attendance during my illness all the balance and residue of my estate, real and personal, wherever situated." That will was made just a few days before Silvany died, and L. C. Flores, who was, under the will, made executor without bonds, signed Silvany's name and witnessed his mark, the instrument being attested by L. C. Flores and S. W. Quijada.

On January 13, three days after Silvany died, Francisco Quijada applied to the court for letters of administration, and in the petition it was set forth that the estate consisted of a few articles of furniture and old clothing of small value, and five or six-lots upon which stood several shantles, returning an income of about $25 per month. In all, the estate was valued at $4000.

There was a delightful indefiniteness about the petition, but it passed muster, and on January 26, the will was admitted to probate. Two days following, on the 28th, the inventory and appraisement were filed, and they showed that the estate had increased wonderfully in value, for it was set down at $9250—an increase in about two weeks of over 100 per cent, in the actual value in advance of the value estimated when the petition for letters was filed.

Then along came Rev. Joachin Adam. best friend. Francisco Quijada, was filed.

Then along came Rev. Joachim Adam. was filed.

Then along came Rev. Joachim Adam, rector of the Catholic Cathedral, and vicar-general of the diocese, and Patrick Harnett, and filed a contest of the will. In their petition they represented that Silvany died on the date stated, leaving an estate of $10,000, and personal property valued at $350; that he left no heirs, nor next of kin, and his only devisees are Francis Mora, now of Barceloha, Spain, and Valery Girarda, wife of George Meyer of this city. To Francis Mora the late bishop of Los Angeles and Monterey, the testator left all of his property, in trust, for the purpose of erecting and maintaining a male Catholic orphan asylum, with the exception of $500 left to Mrs. Meyer. This disposition of his property was embodied in a will made by Silvany on March 6, 1891, when he was 58 years of age, and the petition closed with a claim that petitioners were entitled to letters, as no subsequent will had ever been made by Silvany.

That brought the issue of contest quent will had ever been made by Silvany.

That brought the issue of contest squarely into court, and in the other papers filed by the contestants in the case, a very sharp attack was made upon the bona fides of L. C. Flores and Francisco Quijada. It was charged that Silvany did not have "any confidence in the integrity and honesty of the said Flores, and that the decedent then knew that Flores was a confidence operator, and not engaged in any legitimate business, but on the contrary, was the keeper of bunco games and gambling dens in the city of Los Angeles, and absolutely irresponsible and untrustworthy." It is sponsible and untrustworthy." It is also charged that for years Flores has been the confidential friend and agent probate was fraudulently obtained by Flores was purposely fabricated, and if Silvany ever did affix his mark to such a document, it was under duress and undue influence. It was claimed, too, that at the precise time that the disputed will was signed and witnessed. Silvany was out of his right mind: that when he was lying ill Flores had him removed to the home of Quijada, where he died.

All of this forms the basis of a rether.

where he died.

All of this forms the basis of a rather interesting legal fight. Several witnesses were examined yesterday, and the main point of interest lay in the testimony given that the decedent had stated on a number of occasions that he had settled all of his affairs, and that all of his papers were in the hands of then Bishop Mora.

The further hearing in the case will be continued today.

Dan McMahon. The defense in the case of Dan Mc-Mahon, charged with having robbed T. M. Lugo, on the night of April 4, close to the junction of College and Buena Vista streets, ran against a snag yesterday, in the shape of a wit. ness who knocked a big hole in the neatly constructed alibi.

On Tuesday several women testified neatly constructed allbi.

On Tuesday several women testified that they, in company with Dan and the other boys, were perambulating the city, and after passing an hour and a half at Noel's saloon at Alameda and Allso streets, returned to Mrs. Goff's house shortly before 11 o'clock. The boys remained there for from ten to twenty minutes, and were nicely tucked away in bed at Mrs. Westphalen's, where they roomed, a few minutes later. Mrs. Westphalen testified to this, and as it was not possible for Dan McMahon to be assisting in robbing a man in one place and be lying in bed in another, the allbi seemed to be fairly good. But yesterday afternoon J. Kemper went upon the witness stand and swore positively that the side partners of the defendant. W. H. McMahon and John Wood, had held him up on the same night that Lugo was robbed, and close to the corner of College and Buena Vista streets. The witness was not to be moved on cross-examination, but maintained that there was a moon. light that enabled him to sée his assallants; and he readily identified them later. When the court adjourned Kemper was still under cross-examination.

forgery, had another similar charge placed against him. The defendant has a sister living at Beaumont for whom he has on several occasions cashed checks, and in this way he won the confidence of the people who knew his sister, and who knew her paper to be good. The apportunity thus afforded good. The apportunity thus afforded was seized by Kruger, and turned to his own advantage when he forged the name of Mrs. May Ellis, his sister, to a check for $74.60, and got Samuel Stein to cash it.

Yesterday Mallory discovered that Kruger had presented another check, in name, amount and bank similar to the previous one, to Sam Bullivan, the Spring-street saloon man, and that guileless individual had handed over $74.60. On this latter charge the defendant was arraigned yesterday in the Township Court, and as in the previous case he was held by Justice Young in $1000 to appear on the 18th inst. for examination.

A JUSTICE'S JUSTICE.

Mexican Who Understood English but Acted It.

On March 29, Justice J. H. Merriam of Pasadena bound over Gotardo Ra-mos in $200 to keep the peace for six months with F. L. Franco, with the alternative of going to jail until the bond was furnished or the six months in jail had expired. Franco had had Ramos arrested for threatening to kill him during a quarrel between the two at the Santa Anita ranch, on March 20. The evidence in the case was exceedingly meager, and the Justice, in passing upon the case, said: "It is impossible to reconcile the evidence in this case. The evidence of the complaining witness, Franco, is all that shows threats to have been made by the defendant."

Justice Merriam confessed that he was nonplused, and refrained from passing judgment until the testimony was transcribed, and he had perused it. Then he made the order of court referred to. The defendant—could not find sureties to go on his bond, and so he was hustled off to jail. After remaining in confinement he contrived to have an attorney take his case up, an yesterday he was brought before Judge Smith in a habeas corpus proceeding. Ramos is a young fellow, and stood up when called upon by the court, looking very meek. Judge Smith was about to deliver himself upon the niceties of the case when counsel ventured the reminder that the defendant couldn't speak English." Don't you speak English?" inquired the court. Ramos shook his head helplessly. "Then get out," ordered Judge Smith, and so much English Ramos did understand, for he cleared out in short order.

As a matter of fact, there was nothing in the evidence upon which to hold the man, and for the better part of three months he has suffered imprisonment without legal cause.

some years later a removal was made to San Pedro.

The testimony went to show that at San Pedro the couple were very un-happy, and that the husband treated happy, and that the husband treated his wife in a cruel and inhuman way. A number of instances were cited when he struck her, indulged in abusive and obscene language toward her, and openly charged her with infidelity. What made such treatment the harder to bear was that the wife's ill-treatment was carried on openly before the boarders in her house. There is one child as issue of the marriage, Carl Edward R. The divorce case of Lizzie Steen against A. W. Steen was also heard by Judge Shaw. The parties to the suit

THE TIMES PATRIOTIC NUMBER.

The importance of appropriately celebrating the anniversary of our national independence can not be over-estimated. Of all the dates in the calendar of Liberty none is more sacred to the American citizen than that which marks not only an era western continent, but is a white stone set on the broad highway of civilization. At the present time, when we are engaged in a foreign war, the patriotic sentiment dominates all others. THE OREGON ELECTION

Republicans have every reason rejoice over the result of the election held in Oregon on Monday. In every county of the State there were large Republican gains over the vote of 1896. This result was hardly to have been expected, as this is an while the Presidential "off-year," election of 1896 was one of unusual interest. The Republicans of Oregon have done well this year they had merely held their own.

But they have done vastly The letest returns indicate that Geer. the Republican candidate for Gov ernor, will have a pluality of not far from 10,000. Tongue, the Republican candidate for Congress in the First District, is reëlected by more than 2000 plurality. In the Second Congress District, the Republican candidate, Moody, is elected by a plurality of 5000 or more. Out of thirty State Senatore the Republicans have elected twenty-four, while they get forty-four out of a total of sixty Representa tives, giving them a majority on joint ballot of forty-six. This will insure the election of a Republican United States Senator to fill the existing vacancy, caused by the failure of last Legislature to elect. In the city of Portland the Republicans scored a signal triumph, electing their candidate for Mayor by a plurality of about 2500. These splendid results are all the more gratifying in that they achieved in the face of a united opposition, on a platform declaring unequivocally for the gold standard, and against the free coinage of silver. The splendid victory which has been achieved is a forcible illustration of the fact that it is political wisdom for a party to stand firmly by its principles, and to uphold with a loval hand the faith of the national organ To compromise with opponents is both weakness and folly. Men who have faith in the principle which they profess, gain the respec even of opponents by upholding thos principles consistently, at all times and under all circumstances. The result of the Oregon election also indicates unmistakably cadence of the free-silver delusion. That State was once a hotbed of Pop lism and financial error. There is one important feature of the war with Spain to which paratively little attention has been given in the United States. This is the great advantage which we posses both in Cuba and in the Philippine Islands, by having friendly cooperation from the natives of those coun tries in our fight with the Spanish not a very easy thing, in any case, to land a large body of troops either in Cuba or at Manila in the face of batteries, but it is easy see how immensely that difficulty would be increased, were the native of the islands fighting on the side of Spain instead of actively cooperat-

> Another point is that in both coun ries the insurgents are acting in a manner that makes them worthy of our support. In Cuba, Gomez has shown himself to be a gentleman, as well as a brave soldier. His addresses to the Cuban troops that have een published here are models of their kirst, being dignified and patriotic. He is cooperating heartily with the American forces, and his aid will undoubtedly prove to be of im-

In the Philippine Islands, some doubt was entertained as to the character of the insurgent leader, Aguinaldo, but recent advices from Manila show that he is "all right." Dewey writes to the American Consul in Hongkong that the insurgent leader behaving splendidly, and that he is a born soldier. In a modest letter from Aguinaldo to the Consul, he tells what he has already accomplished in a brief space of time, having killed and captured 2000 of the 7000 Spenish soldiers at Manila, which city he expected to capture within a week. He also adds that he is good to the prisoners that are taken.

We may consider ourselves as spe cially fortunate in having the hearts cooperation of these oppressed people of the two Spanish colonies, and it will be a pleasure, as well as a duty, for us to see that they obtain justice, and the freedom for which they have so long struggled.

The Red Cross Society of Oakland s engaged in a movement for the purchase of a hospital ship, to sent to Manila. The estimated cost is $300,000. Though this is a large sum it ought to be secured without difficulty, should it be necessary to raise the money by private subscrip-tion. But there should be no such necessity. A hospital ship is as much a necessary part of the equipment of the Philippine expedition as are the warships and transports. It belongs ship, with all modern appliances for sick and wounded; and it should be in the harbor of Manila before active hostilities begin. The Spaniards continue, with olendid pertinacity, to claim victories that they have never won, to record casualties to men and ships on our side that are as idle as books of fairy tales. Of course, as only about 30 per cent. of the Spanis race can read or write, it does not matter much whether the dons print and bulletin these sort of fakes or not, but if they had any sense of the ridiculous they would not thus continue to exhibit their extremities world.

The volunteer soldiers and sailors of the United States who are fighting the battles of their country foreign lands should not be deprived of the right to vote in the coming Congressional elections, nor in any general elections held in the Unite States during their absence. The Cubans have just given the ions a terrible walloping at Jiguano; but when Blanco and his able corp of typewriters get a whack at the news, it will be transformed into brilliant Spanish victory, as a matter of course.

"We rejoice that before the general's death the misunderstandings as to the battle of Chickamauga had been dispelled, and the controverses incident to that grest struggle settled in his favor. We recall with pride and exultation that among all the students of war and strategy, among all those in the old Union army, or in the Confederate army, or in the armies abroad, who have studied the movements and maneuvers at Chickamauga, that conflict is ranked as one of the greatest battles of the greatest war in modern times. We take pride in the fact that the great strategist who won victories at Corinth and Iuka, whose resourceful energy and personal magnetism turned defeat into victory at Stone River, and whose strategy, courage and prescience extricated his army from the trap set for it by the reinforced enemy at Chickamauga, and in one of the most terrific combats of the war retained the objective point of the campaign, bore misrepresentation and criticism without resentment and with no sign of impatience. We rejoice that in the sereme years of his later life Gen. Rosecrans had the satisfaction of knowing that the great soldiers of the world had done him full credit, that the American people gave him his right place in the group of great Union generals and that he had in the fullest measure the loyal, tender affection of the men who served under him.

"Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of Gen. Rosecrans; that a copy of the Army of the Cumberland; that the record of the Society of the Army of the Cumberland of the Northwest, and that copies be furnished the Chicago papers for publication.

DECIDUOUS FRUITS. Good Prospects for the Marketing of the Crop.

POMONA, June 8.—(Regular Correspondence.) There is a good outlook or owners of apricot and peach or heards this year. Buyers of peaches. for owners of apricot and peach of chards this year. Buyers of peaches for canning purposes are now talking of paying from $30 to $35 per ton. It is also said that apricots will command $20 for canning. Of course, these figures are for fancy fruits, and growers who have not exercised care in the selection of varieties or who have not taken due care of their trees, can expect a heavy shading of prices. It is believed the average quality of fruit this year will be superior to that of last year. It is difficult to make a careful estimate of the amount of apricots through this section, as a few growers lost their entire crop, and a few others a portion of their crop. It is probable the shrinkage of output will amount to about 10 per cent. Peaches, barring early fruit on a small area, will be practically a full crop. Dryers will be at work on apricots within less than a month. this year. Buyers of peaches

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.] PITTSBURGH, June 8.—Three children met death in a frightful manner last evening in Allegheny. By the explosion of a can of oil their clothing was ignited, and the children burned so terribly that they died in a short time. The victims were: time. The victims were: Ella, Edith and Harvill Watts, chil-

Ella, Edith and Harvill Watts, children of Charles Watts of Fern Hill, near Woodsrun avenue, aged 11 and 7 years, and 4 months, respectively.

The eldest child proved herself a heroine, for, with the fiames roasting herbody, she tried to carry her baby brother to a place of safety. Mrs. Watts was also burned in trying to save her children.

The children were playing in an outhouse in the yard and one of them struck a match. In the same room was a large can containing two gallons of oil. When the match was thrown down it dropped into the can and the explosion followed instantly.

LONDON, June 8.—[By Atlantic Ca-ble.] A receiving order in bankruptcy, has been issued against Ernest Terah has been issued against brinch Hooley, for years prominent Hooley, for years prominent as the biggest company promoter in this country, promniently interested in bi-cycle, land, and other concerns, and who was supposed to be a multi-mil-ilonaire.

of the Prnice of Wales, during 1896 he purchased the schooner yacht Verena, and he is a member of a number of yacht clubs. For months past finang ciers have predicted that Mr. Hooley was in deep water.

The markets were not affected by the downfall of Mr. Hooley as the news of the receiving was not unexpected. It will be the second and third-class institutions which will suffer by his failure.

It has been well known that Mr. Hooley had been unable to find money for the big Chinese loan which he proposed to float some time ago, and there was much talk a year ago when the authorities of St. Paul's Cathedral accepted from Mr. Hooley a magnificent gold communion service. Within the last month, Mr. Hooley leased the big building at the corner of Pall Mail cent gold communion service. Within the last month, Mr. Hooley leased the big building at the corner of Pall Mail and Regent streets, to be used as offices. It is said that actions aggregating $2,000,000 are now pending against Hooley, and that one for $265,000 which was set for a hearing tomorrow precipitated the crisis.

Counsel for Mr. Hooley informed the registrar that in order to protect his creditors and to prevent his assets from being sacrificed. Mr. Hooley had adopted the course of applying for a receiving order.

Mr. Hooley was formally adjudged a bankrupt. It is impossible at present to make any correct estimate of the liabilities, but there is no doubt they are very large. Among the more recent projects attempted by Mr. Hooley was the floating of a Spanish loan.

The capitals of the companies promoted by the bankrupt, aggregate from $60,000,000 to $65,000,000 and the shares in these concerns, taken as a whole, have depreciated over 40 per cent since their floation.

BABY'S NIGHT OUT.

A Four-year-old Lost Boy Literally in the Swim.

The four-year-old son of J. Gordon, a nd-hand dealer at No. 239 Eas First street, mysteriously disappeared after supper Tuesday evening. The parents searched for him all night, and the police were requested to exert their energies to the same purpose, but in trace of the lad could be found.

At 9 o'clock yesterday morning, Mr. Plough of No. 1934 Bay street, reported Plough of No. 1934 Bay street, reported to the police that a wet and hungry child had been found by his wife that morning near their home. Investigation proved that it was the Gordon boy. The little fellow was drenched to the skin when found, and all the explanation he could give was that a manhad taken him by the hand and led him away, and that he had been swimming all night.

Some stranger is believed to have led the child down First street to Alameda, and there turned him loose to walk back home. Instead, the little fellow got started down Alameda street and trudged on till he fell into a zanja in which he waded around a good portion of the night. The wonder is he was not drowned. He was picked up about two miles from home.

More recognition from the San José Mercury of southern alertness and en-terprise: "The Southern California disof fruits and other productions at the Omaha Exposition is attracting general attention. However, Northern California has the commissioners, although they have nothing to do. The result of Southern California's enter-prise will be the acquisition of thouands of excursionists and settlers in that section, which will well deserve it.'

Well thank heaven, a sensible woman buttoned on or driven in with a bullet, has been found, and she lives in San Bernardino. The Sun says: "A lady from San Bernardino, who swent to Colton to witness the passing through of the regulars recently, was offered a cartridge of the new Jorgenson rifle as a souvenir of the visit, but declined and told the one who made the offer to 'kill a Spanjard for her with

The Oakland Enquirer says: "It is gloomy news which comes down from Lodi, in the San Joaquin Valley. The watermelon crop is a failure, and the population of San Francisco and Oak-land, black and white, has occasion to mourn. To add to the misfortune, this is an election year, and what will the ambitious county-office seeker do if he can no longer afford to cut a watermelon with his constituents?", Just send south for the melon and cut it anyhow. There will be melons to burst down here when the time comes.

There is no suiting some people. The Oakland Tribune complains that "just as the appeal of the soldiers at Camp Merritt was answered, and they were with blankets and warn clothing so as to put a stop to the pneumonia and colds that were being reported on all sides, along comes weather that makes them wish there were no such things as blankets, Drill with a heavy uniform on and forty of accoutrements on one's back is no joke, and there is little fear that any of the boys will put on fat during their enforced idleness in camp."

Truth dwells occasionally in the editorial pen of the Fresno Expositor, and this is one of the times: "The Valley road has given the 'Octopus' another thrust into the quick. It is known that the Southern Pacific officials went that the Southern Pacific officials went into court and swore that their line could not live if the grain rates in this valley were cut 8 per cent, by the Railroad Commissioners. Wanted to Escape

Wented to Escape.

A Mexican in a desperately drunken condition tried to jump from the patrol wason last night while being taken to the station. He had been arrested at Bellevue and New High streets by the officer on the beat for walking wildly about and communing with himself aloud. The patrol wagon backed up to the intersection of the streets and Officer Sparks assisted the prisoner in. It was apparent on the drive that the Mexican was revolving in his mind a scheme for escape, and Officer Sparks watched him all the closer accordingly. When near the station he made a sudden movement for the steps, in the rear of the wason, and an instant later he was in mid-air. The officer caught him about the waist in time and threw him back for the wagon on his stomach. He struggled and fought from that time until placed in a cell. He was too drunk to give his name.

BUSY DAY FOR FIREMEN.

EVERAL IMPORTANT CALLS RE-SPONDED TO YESTERDAY.

Damage in the Basement of Off & Vaughn's Drug Store - Gen. Mathews's Residence Burned.

The fire department again had plenty to do yesterday. At 10:40' a.m. an alarm from box No. 13 sent several steamers and chemical engines scurrying to Fourth and Spring streets, to battle with a blaze in the basement of Off & Vaughn's drug store. It proved to be a stubborn fire to bettle with to be a stubborn fire to battle with, and one fraught with danger to the firemen, on account of the dense vol-umes of smoke from burning chemicals that poured from the building. The fire was confined to the laboratory in fire was confined to the laboratory in the rear of the cellar, but much damage was done upstairs by smože.

A boy employed in the drug store was carbolating vaseline, that is, dissolving vaseline and uniting carbolic acid with it, in the laboratory. He left his work for a few minutes to go on an errand upstairs. During his absence a lighted gas jet came in contact with the mixture, and a small-sized conflagration was soon in progress. Shelves full of chemicals added fuel to, the flames, but produced more smoke than fire. Smoke was pouring from every aperture when the firemen, arrived, and made it extremely dangerous to carry a line of hose into the cellar, where the fire was located. By working in short shifts, however, the men soon managed to get the flames under control, without the use of water. The chemical apparatus only was used, but with word offert.

Fortunately, the fire was extinguished before it burned through a large cask of alcohol, or reached a large quantity of ether and chloroform stored in a corner of the laboratory. It is difficult for the 'proprietors' to form an estimate of the damage to their stock, but it cannot be far from $1500, fully insured. The firm carries a stock valued at $12,000 to $15,000, so the loss is light, compared with what it might flave been, but for the efficient work of the fire department. MATHEWS RESIDENCE BURNED

The second serious fire of the day occurred at 3 o'clock in the afternoon at the residence of Postmaster J. R. Mathews, No. 822 South Westlake avenue. The house, a handsome, new two-story frame structure, was completely gutted, and such of the contents as was not burned was damaged by water.

The house was the property of Gen. Mathews's sisters, the Misses Ida and Cora Mathews, who occupied it.in common with their mother and Gen. Mathews and his wife. The combined family moved into the building on May 4 last, before it was quite finished. They had just got comfortably settled when the fire occurred, and it will be necessary to rebuild and buy new furnishings.

Mrs. Mathews, mother of the General and his sisters, is nearly 78 years old, and bed-ridden. The Misses Mathews were at home with their mother and a few lady friends who had come to spend the afternoon, when smoke was seen pouring from the roof of the house by some of the neighbors. The ladies were promptly informed of their danger, and their first care was to remove Mrs. Mathews. Sr., to a place of safety. Willing hands speedily carried her out of harm's way to one of the neighboring houses. The work of saving clothing and furniture was then undertaken, but the flames spread so rapidly that much of the contents of the house had to be abandoned.

The firemen prevented the total destruction of the building and saved the adjoining property which escaped damage.

"The average shipper has no idea how often his fruit is handled and moved about before it reaches the consumer, and therefore the importance of the most careful packing cannot be lost sight of. To illustrate, let us review the scene of the arrival of the fruit runs from the Souththe two main runs arriving about the same time in the morning.

"On arrival of trains at the Union Depot, the Southern and Pacific Express companies back up their wagons to the express cars as soon as the doors are open. A few expressmen, assisted by some of the commission men, or their employés, enter the car and commence passing out the goods to the drivers. A dozen or more firms are represented and all are in a hurry and anxious to get off with the fruit, for their customers are at their stores up town waiting, and they do not want to miss the early sales—always the best. Therefore, handling each package carefully or putting it down easily is out of the question, where so many have to be handled in the very short time in which it has to be done. In this car is fruit from perhaps twenty different shipping points, and from one hundred different shipping, sand from one hundred different shipping points, and from one hundred different shipping points, and from one hundred different shipping, intended possibly for seventy-five different frims, for this car may have shipments for various towns in Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, etc. The outgoing trains will soon be ready and all this fruit must be transferred, checked off and re-billed for its various destinations. The express employés, in their anxiety to keep these various lots from getting left, add to the confusion and prolong the delivery to local receivers. All must be separated for the various parties and numerous firms here and elsewhere. Consequently rapid, and occasionally, rough fandling seems unavoidable.

"When, the wagons are loaded they drive across the track to the express buildings and platforms, where t is lited again and passed in to all these wagons, receipted d wreath around the litted again and passed in all these wagons, receipted and driven off rapidly, and the commission houses the fruit has to be separated once more and credited up to the respective own-ers and shippers. After being thus hurriedly handled half a dozen times hurriedly handled half a dozen times it is ready for the purchaser's inspection. He throws it into his wagon once more with similar haste, and it is hurried off over the streets again and set down again for the inspection of the consumer; and it is safe to say it could not be recognized now by the original owner—apart from his marks—unless the packing was of the best at the start.

"These are some of the features of the business that should be calmly considered by the shipper, who too often jumps at the conclusion that he was robbed—that his fruit was first-was robbed-that his fruit was firstwas robbed—that his fruit was first-class, and must have opened up fine. Large shipments, or carload lots do not, however, suffer to this extent, for such are usually loaded into the receiver's wagon and hauled direct to his store, or the express company's wagons will do the same when the amount reaches something near a load. Time and re-dandling of fruit is thus saved to the large shippers."

IRRIGATION DISTRICT DIS. SOLVED. Another irrigation district has been dissolved—the Kern and Tuhas been dissolved—the Kern and Tu-lare district. Nearly two years ago the district voted to abandon its plan and to end its existence. It was formed in 1890 and contained 84,000 acres in Kern and Tulare counties, in-cluding the town of Delano. Nearly $60,000 was spent in surveys and in the purchase of a few hundred acres to give a frontage on the Kern River. Bonds amounting to $700,000 were voted, but never sold. The district had $900 on hand, which was paid to the county-treasury. treasury.

This district was more fortunate than some others, in not having sold its bonds.

GENERAL EASTERN MARKETS

Grain and Produce. (ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

(ASSOCIATED PIRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

CHICAGO, June 8.—The chief factor of strength in wheat was the unexpected advance in Liverpool cables, which quoted an improvement in July equal to 4½ cents a bushel. September in that market was likewise higher, but in much less marked degree than July. Besides the strength of the Liverpool market, there were fears that the domestic crop had been injured by too much rain. Shorts became exceedingly nervous, and there was an unusual rush to cover, partly to secure profits which yet remained and partly to stop further losses. There was also some demand for the long account from scalpers who reasoned that after such a drop as we have had, it was time for the pendulum to swing the other way. The trade was nervous for a time, and took little note of anything but the bull factors. Later, however, it was believed that no real damage to the crop had been experienced, and the recent statistics as to the world's present supplies were really bearish. The idea of manipulated Liverpool markets began to take root, the bears regained their courage and began to fight the advance. The close was fairly steady, July closing with again of 1½ and September 1½@114. Steadier, cables and the heavy regularithroughdut the start. The market was laid to start. The close was fairly steady, July closing with an advance of a cents, lard unchanged and ribs 2½ cents lower.

NEW YORK, June 8.—The Evening Post's London financial cablegram says: "The stock markets here were quiet and rather duil today. Consols and India stocks were lower on the prospect of a new India loan of £10,000,000 sterling next month. Argentines, Spanish fours and other foreign stocks were dull, in sympathy with the Paris bourse, but Brazils were hard, exchange being at 7%. The account in Americans at the settlement was rather larger than expected, but Contangoes were only to 3½ per cent. The tone was steadier, but the close was under the best. There is no public dealing yet. The failure of Hooley, the millionaire operator is not likely to materially affect the markets. In consequence of the continued decline in open market of money quotations, it is expected that discount house will lower deposit rates tomorow."

ARRANGING THE PARADE. Answers to the Invitation to Particl-

pate Still Coming. Grand Marshal Johnstone Jones is ar

pate Still Coming.

Grand Marshal Johnstone Jones is arranging for many unique, patriotic and pleasing features for the procession on the Fourth of July. Among them is the carrying of the regimental flag at the head of each division by old soldiers. For this purpose he has addressed a letter to the commanders of Bartlett-Logan, Stanton, Kenesaw posts of the Grand Army of the Republic, and the Army and Navy Union, asking them to appoint thirty men to act as color-bearers and guards. The marshal's idea is to have the parade resplendent in flags and patriotic devices.

Another pretty feature suggested by him is to have six boys between the ages of 14 and 15 years mounted on ponies to act as couriers for the grand marshal and his staff. For this purpose he asks that boys between the ages mentioned, who can come mounted on ponies, to address him by letter a headquarters in the Bryson Block. From the replies he will select the six.

A suggestion is offered that a company of schoolboys dress as sailors and draw a model of the proposed battleship, American Boy. It is thought it will create a great deal of enthustasm among the school children.

It has been decided that the parade will be formed around Central Park with the head of the procession starting from the corner of Grand avenue and Sixth street. The line of march has not yet been determined on.

Grand Marshal Jones will be at headquarters for the present each day, excepting Sunday, from 3 until 5 o'clock in the afternoon. Parties wishing to see him can do so between those hours. Later on he will make his hours longer to accommodate the increased business to come before him.

Some of the Citizens' Finance Committee have reported gratifying success in their districts. It is expected all committees will report on Friday.

to come before him.

Some of, the Citizens' Finance Committee have reported gratifying success in their districts. It is expected all committees will report on Friday, so that the Executive Committee may know how the funds are to pan out.

A call has been left at the committee headquarters for all native sons of the State of Michigan to meet there tonight at $\overline{8}\circ$ occlede for the purpose of arranging for a State display on the Fourth. There are quite a number of Wolverines living in Los Angeles, and it is hoped they will turn out and take hold of this matter. Any other State wishing the use of the rooms will be assigned an evening upon application to Secretary Beebe.

Letters accepting the invitation to join in the procession were received yesterday from the Garibaldi Guards, Riverside Canton, Patriarchs Militant, I.O.O.F. Printers' Protective Fraternity, and the Ploneers of Los Angeles county.

LYTLE CREEK WATER,

County Health Officer Rene has submitted a report to the Board of Supervisors, relative to the alleged contamination of Lytle Creek, which stream is the source of the local water supply. In summing up, Dr. Rene says: "Lytle Creek water, undisturbed and without being impregnated with mining debris, is as healthful as any in the State. The amount of lime and magnesia is not greater than it is in any other stream of the same length. It is only when mining is going on that the water becomes somewhat unhealthy and unpalatable. . As to the contamination of the water, by the animals, which are nightly drowned in the ditch, I believe that the danger is greatly overrated. The drowned animals are taken from the ditch regularity every morning by Zanjero Sbiley."

The railroad company has given orders to a number of squatters on its lands to remove at once, in order to make room for the improvements. In some cases the railroad company has done the moving of shantles at its own expense, to save trouble and to hasten the departure of the humble but troublesome squatter. No special protest is being made this time, because the company has asked only what it was entitled to, and the general public is only too glad to see the long rows of squatters' cabins supplanted by substantial wharves and railroad switches.

REDLANDS, June 8.—Regular Correspondence.] The Redlands Horticultural Clubheld its last meeting of the season this afternoon, with an attendance larger than usual. A number of members had had questions assigned them for answers and discussion at this meeting, and it made the proceedings at this meeting. To the question of the effect of fertilizers upon orange trees to prevent the dropning of fruit. proceedings at this meeting. To the question of the effect of fertilizers upon orange trees to prevent the dropping of fruit, Prof. C. R. Paine and E. A. Moore each gave a number of examples showing that when the orchards had been properly fertilized with commercial fertilizers the fruit did not drop, while neighboring orchards treated in precisely the same manner except they did not have the fertilizers, dropped nearly all the fruit. Prof. Paine showed branches from his orange trees laden with fine fruit, better than he had ever had before, and attributed the benefit to commercial fertilizers.

Others joined in the discussion and the expression was aimost unanimous in favor of the use of fertilizers to provent fruit falling from orange trees.

The value of cultivation to offset the drought was discussed. Thorough and deep cultivation was advocated by several who had derived benefit therefrom. Abundance of water and little cultivation will make a poor preparation for little water and much cultivation. The orchard should be thoroughly cultivated after every irrigation and every rain, whether there is much or little water.

Summer application of fertilizers was discussed. While the application of barnyard manures was considered injurious unless there was an abundance of water easily soluble commercial fertilizers were commended when they could be thoroughly in-manures was considered injurious unless there was an abundance of water, easily soluble commercial fertilizers were commended when they could be thoroughly incorporated with the soil and enough water added to dissolve them.

D. H. Moore read a paper upon the Nicaragua Canai, giving the history of the project to date, and stating some of the advantages to be derived irom having the canal. Mr. Moore lived for several years in Nicaragua, and has traversed the whole route of the proposed canal. The cost, he maintains, would be much less than the estimates given by the canal company.

SANTA MONICA.

His Health.

"Poker" Davis Takes a Vacation for His Health.

SANTA MONICA, June 8.—[Regular Correspondence.] Late advices from "Poker" Davis are to the effect that he has temporarily retired from the business of parting fools from their money. The report has it that he has sought a lone retreat far from the madding, and in some cases thoroughly maddened, crowd, where he will leave the goddens of fortune to take care of herself, while he tries to regain his health. The vacancy hereabout caused by the absence of so important a personage is looked upon in marked violation of the commandment covetousness. Should he remain away during the summer it is a matter of open speculation who would attempt to pick up the mantle which he has cast down. King Warren, who operated at some of the seaside resorts about here two years ago, is reported to be compelled by circumstances beyond his control to remain somewhere in the Puget Sound country for a year or so yet. Some of "Poker" Davis's lieutenants may attempt to do business here this summer, but there are a half dozen or so special policemen who might refuse to recognize their operations as merely innocent games of skill.

SANCTIMONIOUS THIEF.

op-lifter Evans Again Acquitte

on a Technicality.

The sanctimonious shop-lifter, Benjamin Evans, has again gained a victory in the courts. The old man was on trial for the fourth time yesterday on the charge of petty larceny. In this instance he was accused of stealing a China soup-bowl from the store of the Wing Hing Wo Company, valued at $1.50. A jury was impanelled and the evidence for the prosecution was nearly all in when the defense made the discovery that the Wing Hing Wo Company was described as a corporation in the complaint, whereas, the evidence showed that it was a simple partnership affair. When this fact was called to the attention of Justice Owens, he instructed the jury to render a verdict of not guilty, which the jury did.

On this technicality the complaint was dismissed, but the end is not yet. Detectives Auble and Hawley have several more cases on which to try the old man. One of the cases in which the jury disagreed a few weeks ago, will be retried in Justice Omrrison's court June 28.

Dr. Rendon and wife had spent the evening with some friends, and were returning homeward about 10:15 o'clock when they were halted in the shade of a pepper tree on Grand avenue between Ninth and Tenth streets, within one block of their home, by two masked men.

One of the highwaymen approached One of the highwaymen approached close to the doctor and pointed a revolver at his head, telling him at the same time to throw up his hands. The doctor was armed with a stout cane and instead of standing and delivering he made for the robber with the stick, and dealt him several effective blows. The robber struck repeatedly at the doctor with his revolver, and for a little while a lively duel was in progress, with the doctor getting much the best of it.

Meanwhile Mrs. Rendon had uttered a scream and showed a disposition to faint. The doctor, apprehensive for her safety, turned his attention toward her, and in so doing dropped his cane. The second rebber, who had up to this time stood aloof caught up the stick and hit the doctor a severe blow on the temple and another on the arm. The plucky physician was not vanquished yet, and although entirely unarmed, he charged his two assallants and put them to flight.

The doctor's battered and broken hat, a scar on his temple and a stiff arm are evidences of the desperate encounter he had with the footpads.

Dr. Rendon has only lived in Los An-Angeles since last October. He came here from Yucatan. He is of athletic build, and showed splendid courage in the manner in which he sailed into the highwaymen when the odds were so largely against him. The robber with the revolver evidently refrained from shooting for fear of attracting attention. Dr. Rendon reported the matter to the police, together with a good description of the footpads.

The men who tried to hold up Dr. Rendon are believed to be the same who held up D. M. Brockman of No. 1241 Irgraham street, half an hour previously, at Kip and Seventh streets. Brockman offered no resistance, and the highwaymen relieved him of $4 in silver and an open-faced Elgin watch.

Colby had accused Carrier of pulling the cord of the fare indicator instead of the bell rope, when he wanted to stop the car, thus ringing up several fares on the conductor. Carver denied the allegations, some hot words were bandled, then the conductor hit the lawyer. A jury which tried Colby a short time ago disagreed as to his guilt, and a second trial was ordered, which is now rendered unnecessary by his action yesterday.

One m ing, when I was feeling worse than ever, I saw the ad of Ripans Tabules in the Phine phis Record. I had seen it often before, but it had never struck me so forcibly befor decided to try them, although my last physician had warned me not to take any stoc patent medicines. The first box relieved me and I decided to try another, and after u the second box the nervous spells were less frequent and my heart began to get more mal. I have used altogether eight bores of the 5-cont kind. I have gained hy we from one hundred and eight to one hundred and eighteen pounds, and am feeling myself again. My family all use them, and I would not be without them in the hous feel that I owe my present health to their beneficial receits."
